Dear Colleagues,

our Center for Vascular Malformation in Children (ZVM) is now in its fourth year. In March several German groups working on the treatment of Hemangioma and Vascular Malformations decided to start the "German Network of Vascular Anomalies" in order to improve professional communication and cooperation.

Our scientific conference in Berlin will be the first open meeting of this network. All groups not yet included in this network are welcome to attend.

Every other year we will meet in different places in Germany (next meeting in 2013 in Freiburg) to create a permanent flow of ideas and a platform for discussions. These conferences will be held in English in order to allow colleagues from all over Europe to participate.

We would like to invite you to come to Berlin and to take part in an active interdisciplinary discussion in an ever evolving field of therapeutic concepts for difficult cases. We offer an interesting schedule and Berlin as a city always worth visiting.
